2016 WINE CATALOG
Wine closes at 7 p.m.
In 1993, Turley Wine Cellars was founded by Larry Turley, brother of the well-known consulting winemaker Helen Turley. Turley, had entered the wine business in 1981 as co-founder of the multi-varietal Frog's Leap Winery, but soon realized that his interest lay in wines made from the Zinfandel grape. Larry has never met an old vine vineyard he didn’t like, now producing 28 separate wines from 35 different vineyards, some with vines that date back to the late 1800’s.

Though the blend has changed over the years, White Coat (named for Larry’s past as an Emergency Room physician) comprises rich, textured Roussanne from Rattlesnake Ridge on Howell Mountain moderated by acidity and structure of Grenache Blanc from Pesenti Vineyard. The blend recently added a bit of Vermentino from Amador, as well as some extra Grenache Blanc and a little Verdelho from Lodi.

This package contains the following items:
- 2013 Turley Wine Cellars Zinfandel Hayne Vineyard

2010 Evesham Wood "Cuvee J"

Only 150 cases made - the most exquisite, age-worthy six barrels of the vintage from Evesham's organically farmed Le Puits Sec vineyard.

92 points Robert Parker's Wine Advocate
“Constituting a marriage of six ostensibly superior barrels from the estate vineyard (two of them new but discreetly-integrated), the Evesham Wood 2010 Pinot Noir Cuvee J smells alluringly of rose petal, red licorice, smoky black tea, and dark berries, all of which reconvene on a tenderly-textured palate and lead to a finish of impressively juicy and subtly interactive length. I suspect this at once soothing, stimulating beauty will be well worth following for at least a dozen years.”

Winemaker Chris Dowsett, who also serves as winemaker at Walla Walla’s Buty Winery, made his first gewürztraminer with his father in 1983 when he was a junior in high school. He’s had a fondness for the grape that borders on fanaticism ever since.

The 2013 Dowsett Family Gewürztraminer was harvested from the acclaimed Celilo Vineyard “was a wonderful warm vintage.” The aromas of fresh fruit, honeysuckle and roses can carry for hours. The sur lees ageing in the older barrels, gives a full bodied mouthfeel with firm acidity. This wine is a beautiful match to many hard to pair cuisines. Only 235 cases produced.

The 2014 Riesling is 100% Riesling from Aunt Diane’s vineyard in the Columbia Gorge, above Husum. Dry. Only 37 cases produced.

Many thanks to ardent Catlin Gabel supporter “Aunt Diane” Boly for donating from her personal stock of these very limited, special wines.

Vertical Flight of WillaKenzie!

2003, 2004 & 2005 WillaKenzie "Triple Black Slopes" Pinot Noir. WillaKenzie has borrowed this “Triple Black” ski terminology because its top-drawer pinot is made from grapes grown on an exceptionally steep, south-facing slope that the winery says is very difficult (and presumably costly) to farm. As pinot noir often does best in difficult conditions the “Triple Black Slopes” is considered WillaKenzie’s finest.

Case of German Riesling from Mosel!

- 12 flaschen 2001 Joh. Jos. Christoffel Erben Urziger Wurzgarten Riesling Auslese, Mosel, Germany

Germany's Mosel wine region, produces some of the very finest Riesling wines available. Urzig is a town in the Bernkastel district of Germany's Mosel wine region.

“One of the most striking differences between German Riesling on release and several years later is the sense of harmony that seems to develop. The floral or mineral expressions that they show on release aren’t as vivid several years later, but rather they converge with the fruit and the nuances of development into a seamless whole that’s greater than the sum of all parts in the best examples.”

This is an incredible opportunity. Don’t pass it up.

2 x 2002 Chablis Premier Cru!

- 2002 Domaine Jean-Pierre Grossot Les Fourneaux, Chablis 1er Cru
- 2002 Domaine Jean-Pierre Grossot Vaucoupin, Chablis 1er Cru

Corinne and Jean-Pierre Grossot, now joined by their daughter Eve, represent the third and fourth generations of winemakers at their family domaine. The estate is now counted among the elite of the appellation. The Grossots cultivate 18 hectares of Chablis vineyards, centered in the village of Fleys, just east of the town of Chablis. All of Grossot’s vineyards are on the right bank of the Serein River which is recognized as the finest part of the Chablis appellation. Their production is about two-thirds Chablis AOC and one third (5 hectares) of several Premier Crus, including Mont de-Milieu, Vaucoupin, and Fourneaux. The Grossots seek to produce exceptional Chablis wines - and especially their Chablis AOC - by keeping the rich, pure Chardonnay fruit, the unique mineral quality of the Kimmeridgian soil, and the lively fruity acidity and bouquet, in perfect balance. The grapes are hand-harvested, sorted in the vineyards and again at the winery, and gently pressed in a horizontal pneumatic press to ensure the fullest extraction of flavors and aromas.

- 2000 Domaine Auguste Clape Cotes du Rhone, Rhone, France
  Kermit Lynch: In the world of wine, there are many good winegrowers. However, there are only a very select few who are truly great, and Auguste Clape is among them. Critics and connoisseurs alike all agree that he is one of the greatest pioneers of the Northern Rhône, and his Syrahs from the cru of Cornas are among the most celebrated wines of France. Without pretense or fanfare, Auguste, the former mayor of Cornas, is a stately picture of grace and magnanimity. Today, he works side-by-side with his son, Pierre-Marie, and grandson, Olivier.

Chenin Blanc from the Summer of Love!

- 1969 Clos de Sainte Catherine Baumard, Côteaux du Layon

The sweet wines of Domaine des Baumard are from vineyards planted along the Layon river, which flows northwest into the Loire. The perfectly exposed vineyards in the appellation Côteaux du Layon allow the Chenin Blanc grape to ripen perfectly in most years, often enriched by the development of botrytis. For the production of sweet wine, Florent Baumard prefers to harvest as late as the vintage weather permits, hoping for plenty of botrytis. The grapes are harvested in successive passes or ‘tries’ through the vineyard, and any unsatisfactory fruit is eliminated. The grapes are pressed quickly and the must fermented under temperature control. Aging is done strictly without oak to preserve the elements of fruit and terroir. The single-vineyard ‘Clos de Sainte Catherine,’ produced almost every year, is highlighted by a compelling minerality and extraordinarily long life in great vintages.

PS. Chenin Blanc typically pairs wonderfully with foie gras.
NB. Be careful who you tell. Waterfowl have good attorneys.

3 from antica terra

- 2012 Antica Terra 'Botanica' Pinot Noir, Willamette Valley
  “Botanica is always sappy and sanguine with a taste of wild rose, sour cherries, and blood orange. It is tempting to define it solely by its compelling texture and lush personality but there is a structural element that is equally striking. This balance between extraordinarily concentrated fruit and intense levels of extract is the essence of this wine.”

- 2012 Antica Terra 'Ceras' Pinot Noir, Willamette Valley
  “Ceras is Botanica’s counterpoint. Its color is more purple than red. It is more about minerals and herbs than fruit and flowers. It is a focused and elegant distillation of rock rather than an opulent cascade of fruit. It is an expression of the geology that lays beneath our land.”

- 2012 Antica Terra 'Angelicall' Rose, Eola-Amity Hills
  “Often referred to as the Food of Angels, the Angelicall Stone was the goal above all goals for the alchemist. It could not be seen, felt or weighed; only tasted. This name and the image of the alchemist’s laboratory represents their most experimental wine. 310 cases produced”

Maggie Harrison left Sine Qua Non in Santa Barbara in 2005 to help found Antica Terra. In 2012, Food & Wine Magazine named her Winemaker of the Year.

Aged Cachaça!

Rare hand-crafted, single sourced Cachaça!
Best not used for Caipirinhas.

"Most of us assume Cachaça culture is all about fresh cane spirit and partying, but in fact there is a rich nuanced drinking culture behind the country's national drink. The Avua oak is aged for up to 2 years in French Oak, or carvalho previously used to age white wine. Carvalho (Portuguese for Oak barrels) is the most common wood used for cachaça aging in Brazil and imparts notes of vanilla, butterscotch and banana that makes for an exquisite sipping spirit. The rich oak influence softens the powerful cane aromas in the perfect way. This is cachaça worthy of any rum lover's cabinet."

Blade and Bow Kentucky Straight Bourbon

91 proof. Aged in the legendary Stitzel-Weller Distillery, the where the legendary Julian (Pappy) Van Winkle made his mark in the Bourbon history books. The Blade and Bow project started three years ago with intentions of honoring the heritage of the Stitzel-Weller Distillery site. The name, Blade and Bow, comes from the anatomy of a key (the blade is the long section and the bow is the end or ornamental part) and the Five Key symbol that has always had a strong presence at Stitzel-Weller. The Five Key symbol stands for the five steps of making Bourbon (grains, yeast, fermentation, distillation and aging) and was later used as a symbol of southern hospitality.

Negroni Kit

The Negroni cocktail is made of one part gin, one part vermouth rosso (red, semi-sweet), and one part Campari, garnished with orange peel. Stir into glass over ice, garnish and serve.

One of the earliest reports of the drink came from Orson Welles in correspondence with the Coshocton Tribune while working in Rome on Cagliostro in 1947, where he described a new drink called the Negroni, "The bitters are excellent for your liver, the gin is bad for you. They balance each other."

Crater Lake Gin is a return to the roots of American gin. At 95 proof and the juniper infused after distillation, it is a modern interpretation of the compound gins that were so common in America a century ago. Pure Cascade Mountain water and juniper berries handpicked from trees growing wild in the Central Oregon high desert – some over 1000 years old – give our gin a clean, crisp flavor that is not muddied by an array of competing botanicals. This is a gin for the golden age of the cocktail.

Cliff's Regret I
Attention California Cab Lovers

Cliff presently works in Sydney, Australia. Unfortunately for him, he had to leave some of his most coveted Cabernets behind. Fortunately for you, he (& Annette both) love Catlin Gabel.

Here are 3 of them from THE vintage year of the 1990s.

❖ 1997 Sterling Vineyards Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon, California
❖ 1997 Shafer Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa Valley
❖ 1997 Freemark Abbey Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa Valley

An early spring followed by a cool, even summer had CA winemakers smiling throughout the valley all the way through July. A warming trend in late August and early September put a punctuation mark on the season, accelerating the fruit to ripeness. A very large crop of rich, opulent fruit was the result, producing some of the biggest wines of the decade. If you enjoy larger-framed, fruit-forward wines, 1997 is your vintage.

3 Badass Cabs from Napa!

- 1 L 2013 Caymus Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa Valley
  94 points Robert Parker's Wine Advocate! A beautiful ripe, plump, fat and opulent style of Cabernet Sauvignon that Caymus has pioneered, the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon has a dense purple color, loads of juicy blackberry and blackcurrant fruit, low acidity and no real evidence of oak, but a nice, plush, full-bodied opulence. This is irresistible, especially for a Cabernet Sauvignon coming in at 14.9% natural alcohol. Drink it over the next decade or more (RP).

- 2011 Dominus Estate Christian Moueix, Napa Valley
  The 2011 vintage displays fresh almond, wild strawberry and cassis. The wine has delicate notes of smooth caramel. Polished tannins, dark berries, cocoa and sage accompany a long elegant finish. The 2011 vintage is composed of 86% Cabernet Sauvignon, 9% Petit Verdot, and 5% Cabernet Franc.

- 2010 Paratus Cabernet Sauvignon, Mount Veeder, Napa Valley
  This wine has an old-world personality, elegant and feminine, and is well structured. It lingers on the palate, releasing deep, red fruit with notes of chocolate and nutmeg, and a hint of mint on the finish. Paratus is a small, family owned vineyard in the prestigious Mt. Veeder appellation. Paratus produces a single, limited quantity wine from their own estate-grown grapes.

This package contains the following items:
